

Jonathan Corum
874 Bluff Street
Glencoe IL 60022
corum@13pt.com
+1 917-544-4054

EDUCATION

Yale College, B.A. Art & East Asian Studies, 1995

Groton School, Magna cum laude, 1991

EXPERIENCE

The New York Times

Graphics Editor, 2005–2007

Science Graphics Editor, 2007–present

Reporting, design and production of science and health graphics for a broad, global audience. Information design, graphic design, cartography, coding and multimedia design for print, online, video and virtual reality projects.

13pt LLC

Founder, 1998–present

Information design for clients including Apple, Microsoft and Yale University.

Online Retail Partners

Design Director, 1999–2001

Managed a team of designers and information architects developing retail web sites for clients including Dick's Sporting Goods, ULTA and Zany Brainy.

Interactive Bureau

Senior Designer, 1996–1998

Interface design, web design and design consulting for early websites including Barnes & Noble, drugstore.com, IBM and MSNBC.

The Font Bureau, Inc.

Type Designer, 1994–1996

Web Designer, 1996–2012

Type design for projects including the Agency, Eagle and Mesa font families. Design and development of the Font Bureau retail website.

AWARDS

More than 80 design and public service awards, including contributions toward a Times Pulitzer Prize for coverage of the pandemic.

PORTFOLIO

My online portfolio is at 13pt.com

Slides and transcripts of my talks on information design are at 13pt.com/talks

My resume is also available online at 13pt.com/resume